> CD · CLOSING SPEECH
>
> “Honourable delegates,
>
> As we come to the conclusion of this committee, I would like to appreciate the participation and efforts of every delegation.
>
> Today's discussion has reminded us that climate change is not an issue that can be addressed by one country alone. It requires cooperation, responsibility, mutual understanding, and collective action.
>
> Every country represented in this room has its own challenges, priorities, and responsibilities. However, today's debate has demonstrated the importance of bringing different perspectives together to work towards a common goal.
>
> I encourage every delegate to remember that diplomacy is not simply about defending a national position. It is also about listening, negotiating, understanding differences, and finding common ground.
>
> On behalf of the Dais, I sincerely thank all delegates for their participation, cooperation, and contribution to this committee.
>
> I would also like to thank my Assistant Committee Director for assisting throughout the session.
>
> It has been a pleasure serving as your Committee Director.
